

My Journey From Fire to Light...

I know, deep within, that my life is Elegant, an unimaginable life, filled with Abundance, Flow, and Grace, and I choose to receive it all... knowing I can have anything I don't really need.

I am aware, that I am on a journey back to Myself... a journey from fire to Light, where stillness speaks to me, from beyond My fears, My personalities, My mind.

I know, that the more of you I include, the more of me I can embrace. I accept that everything is true to the mind that thought it, and that the less of everything I consume the more I Become.

I am aware, that I am Worthy beyond my ability to know, that I am more powerful than any part of me that wants to keep me small, and that I need do nothing but be Present, to be invaluable to the world, now and for ever.

I choose, a nurturing relationship with this living earth and All creatures, making their happiness and fulfillment as important as my own, and I choose to forgive now, everything in the past, present and future, that doesn't look like Love to me.

I now realize, that I AM the Change that is trying to happen, and from this place I serve to create the highest Truth in every situation... that there is always a third WIN available, and I choose to inspire that WIN into the world, at every opportunity.

I know, that as I surrender to the Highest Vision of myself I will see, live and travel in many worlds... that I am to show up not as a seeker but a Knower of the Truth... that Joy and Grace are always available in this breath, and THIS breath, and that I am most Myself when I am connected to All.

I am aware, of my own Divinity... that when I finely awaken and realize I am back home with God, I will find only myself, standing there, in humility, greeting Me with open arms.
